CASE STUDY:

After completing her Bachelors in Fashion Designing from a well-known college in France in 2019, Aditi has opened a boutique in a posh market in Kolkata. She has divided the work in smaller units and each employee is not so well trained to perform his/her task efficiently. The sales persons are allowed to close a deal with a buyer by giving a maximum of 5 percent discount, whereas the decision to give any further discount rests with Aditi as the final authority. In the earlier period of her business venture, employees were asked to put in extra hours of work. In return she had promised to give them a special incentive within a year. Therefore, when the business was doing well, she honor her commitment by giving bonus to her employees. She also instructed her employees that communication from top to bottom should follow the official lines of command. However, she tends to be more biased towards her female employees, when it comes to solve the conflicts among employees. But due to online option available she is not able to cope up with the competition. Aditi is in problem due to low business and funds scarcity.

- (a) If you had been in place of Aditi how you would have handled the situation? 07
- (b) Can Aditi's business be considered under Startup India. If yes, Justify. 07
- OR
- (a) Which Government schemes benefit Aditi can avail? Discuss. 07
- (b) Do you think many entrepreneurs faces the same problems like Aditi. Suggest them some ways to come out of these kind of situations. 07
